

The Indianapolis Colts will host the Preps Pro Combine at the Colts Training Facility. This combine will give the best high school football players in the state the chance to showcase their skills and ability.

The Preps Pro Combine consists of body measurements, physical tests and position-specific drills. Physical tests are used to determine a player's size, speed, quickness and strength. Position drills allow players to demonstrate their ability in fundamental skill areas necessary for their position.

All participants' results and video clip will be put into an online database for college coaches to view free of charge.

Limited space is available.
